

CASTING

People use colors to express their feelings, themselves and show their attributes. Yellow is the color that stimulates. It's color of confident people. It improves mood and self-esteem.

We are looking for such people. The characters must be optimistic about the world, energetic, vivid, courageous and original.

We need three men and one woman between the age of 20-26, as described in the agency brief, to which I don't have additional comments, as it's a very good brief.

In addition, we are looking for a group of 15 extras. Women and men aged 25-30. Slim people with a very similar body structure.
